1987 Tool Offering

Welcome to our first 1987 catalogue, offering fine used and antique tools for discriminate collectors and exacting craftsmen.

We wish to extend our appreciation to those of you who purchased from us in the past and to the many people who wrote or called with best wishes and welcome advice.

The majority of our tools have been cleaned and are in Very Good Condition EXCEPT as noted. Any tool denoted "as is" will require special attention to render them useable. We grade our tools according to guidelines established by The Fine Tool Journal. We have reproduced the "model parameters" herein for your convenience.

We have expanded our offering of fine English tools which we hope will please collectors and users alike. Select English tools perform their designated work flawlessly as well as being most aesthetically appealing. We have an especially nice selection of early wooden planes, reasonably priced, for this catalogue.

We invite you to visit our store/shop, as we are open seven days a week. We find that a visit and chat with our customers provides you with a first-hand look at the quality of our stock. We strongly request a phone call or note to let us know of your expected time of arrival, as we are occasionally away from the shop.

OPEN LETTER TO MY CUSTOMERS

Many of you are probably wondering why this is the first mailing you've received since the 1985 Spring Offering. First of all I apologize for the noticeable lack of mailings during 1985-86. Secondly I offer the following explanations and clarifications:

— Most of you are aware that Harry's Hardware (also known as Harry's True Value) in Cabot, Vermont is a retail hardware store. I experienced my first full year in '85 as a True Value dealer, and a hectic year it turned out to be. As a True Value store our buying power increased substantially; subsequently our sales rocketed. I am most grateful for the surge in the store business. However, the tool business suffered neglect, not by choice but by necessity.

My wife Ruth and I are the primary workers in the store. We had an employee full-time until January of 1986 when he began college. Thus, our work burden has increased and will remain heavy until we replace our employee. We have two children, ages 2 and 6 and they too demand, and receive attention.

— The catalogues I have published to date are indeed a labor of love. Anyone who doesn't think so should publish just one! I try to offer a good variety of desirable tools, preferring to steer clear of mediocre or misused tools. I also try to present the tools in an attractive, nice-reading format. Therefore, the catalogue takes a lot of time to prepare. My wife spends an average of one hour on each photograph. The whole catalogue including writing, typing and printing takes up to two weeks. I have to work on the catalogue as time permits, so the time seems much longer.

I will refrain from offering my opinion of the current economic climate of the tool market as there are other publications containing editorials. However, the availability of worthwhile tools for resale is volatile at best. I offer the best available from my resources, and hope the offerings are desirable to you, my customer.

You will notice a lack of photos in the catalogue with more tools listed only. I will most likely retain this format for future publications. I will picture items as required only and attempt to maintain full and honest descriptions of all tools.

All paid subscribers for 1985 will receive all mailings for 1987 / 1988. Mailings will be made as time and availability of stock permits.

I urge you to send your want lists. Due to catalogue format change and less frequent mailings, I am able to custom-buy for regular customers. You may rest assured you will hear from me if I come across a tool of particular interest to you for your collection.

The following pages are laid-out as follows:

1. New offerings of tools per our usual catalogue.
2. A compilation of every unsold tool from all previous catalogues. Each tool shows the first published price and the reduced, sale price. I think you will find some outstanding prices on fine tools. The next sale will be held next year. The next mailing will not contain the "Leftover Merchandise List" as before.

Finally, my thanks for your understanding and support. I look forward to hearing from you soon.

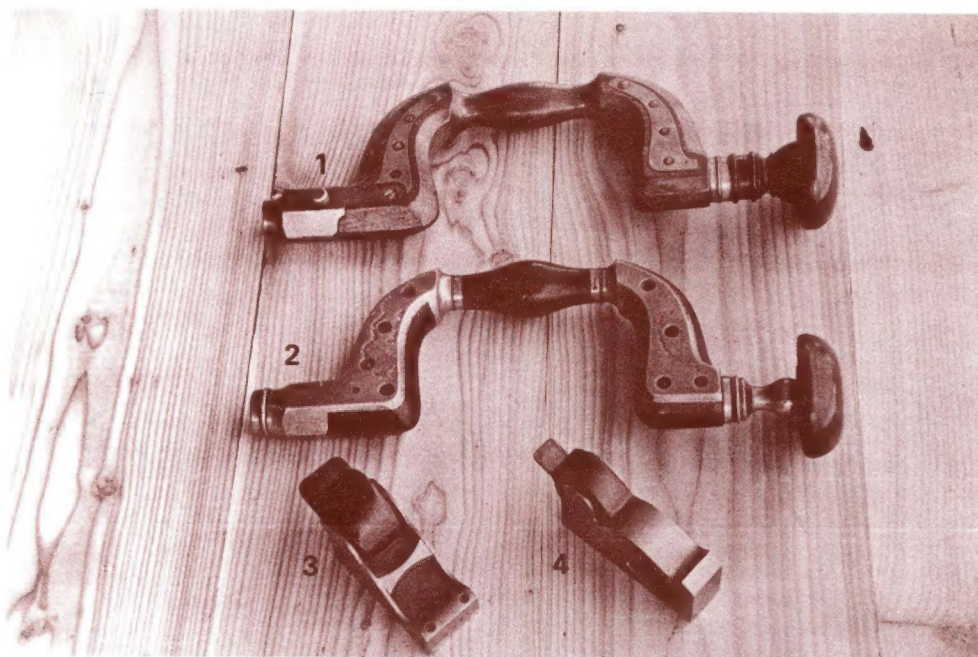

Best regards,
Chris Kaldor

We have adopted the following "Fine Tool Journal Condition Classification for Antique Hand Tools":

CATEGORY	USEABLE	FINISH	WEAR	REPAIR	RUST	MISCELLANEOUS
New	totally	100%	none	none	none	plus orig pkg.
Fine (F)	totally	90-100%	minimal	none	trace
Good+ (G+)	yes	75-90%	normal	minor/none	light	some dings or scratch OK
Good (G)	yes	50-75%	norm-mod	minor	light	minor chips
Good- (G-)	probably	30-50%	mod-hvy	correct	mod	chips OK
Fair (Fr)	no	0-30%	excessive	major	mod-hvy
Poor (P)	no	N/A	excessive	damaged	heavy

Any deviation from the model parameters is to be described, whether positive or negative. All tools G- or better are assumed useable unless specific problems are pointed out.

CATALOGUE OFFERINGS

We have some remaining copies of our 1983 Fall Offering, 1984 Spring and Fall Offerings, and a few 1985 Spring Offerings available at a charge of two dollars each, postpaid.

Dealer in fine used and antique tools.

NOTES FOR SALE ITEMS

The following pages list numerous tools remaining unsold from our previous catalogues.

Many tools have been listed as sale items before, at interim mark-downs. The prices listed herein are NET; i.e., no further price reductions will be made. I offer these tools at bargain prices in order to clear my inventory, thereby making room for new stock. All tools have either been pictured or listed, or both, in prior catalogues.

Anyone desiring a copy of one of our past catalogues (Winter 1982, 1983 Fall Supplement, 1984 Spring and Fall and 1985 Spring) may obtain any one at Two Dollars each, postpaid. The catalogues may be a helpful guide as you peruse the sale items, and they offer you a general price reference.

We offer the SAME RETURN PRIVILEGE for all special sale tools as per our TERMS listed below.

TERMS:

We are discriminate in our buying process and attempt to maintain an inventory of high quality tools. Our buyers are able to return any tool to us, in the same condition as received, for a full refund within five days of receipt. (Buyer pays return postage.)

We suggest you telephone your order so that you get the item you want. We do not accept collect telephone calls. Our number in Cabot is (802) 563-2291. We will hold your order five (5) days pending receipt of payment. You may charge your order on VISA or MasterCard.

Our prices herein do not include shipping costs. We will estimate shipping costs with each order and charge accordingly.
